Separation of conjoined twins 90% complete

By M. A. Hidalgo
Staff Writer

MANILA, April 10 (AP) — The separation of conjoined twins, a procedure that has been described as the most complex and dangerous in surgery, was 90 percent complete Tuesday.

Dr. Jose M. Dela Cruz, chief of surgery at the Philippine General Hospital, said the twins, who were born in 1975, were now separated at the waist.

CHERRY Cobarrubias, of True Marcos Loyalist party-list group, shows documents presented during government negotiations with Swiss authorities to recover the Marcoses' alleged hidden wealth.

"Mrs. Marcos herself said she did not really want to sign the settlement because it was their (the family's) money but she was forced to do it because the children wanted it," said Cobarrubias.

Asked why the Marcos children would push for a settlement, Cobarrubias said it was probably for "practical reasons and for them to have peace of mind."

"Besides, the Marcos children knew that this is what their late father wanted," she said.

Cobarrubias said that during the Aquino administration when the Marcoses were living in exile in Hawaii, the late dictator wanted to settle with the government.

"He wanted only one condition, that he be allowed to return even if he was left with nothing but Cory did not agree. Every (Cory) government official who talked with the old man in Hawaii knows that," she said.

By agreeing to a compromise, the children were in a way honoring the will of their father, she said. (Insert our 'Supreme Court decision is true will of Marcos')

THE DAILY GOSPEL

Monday, February 23, 2004
7th Week in Ordinary Time

1st Reading: Jer 3: 13-18

Gospel: Mt 9: 14-29

When Jesus came to the place where they had left the disciples, they saw many people around and some teachers of the Law arguing with them. When the people saw Jesus, they were astonished and ran to greet him.

He asked, "What are you arguing about with them?" A man answered him from the crowd, "Master, I brought my son to you for he has a dumb spirit. Whenever the spirit seizes him, it throws him down and he foams at the mouth, grinds his teeth and becomes stiff all over. I asked your disciples to drive the spirit out, but they could not."

Jesus replied, "You faithless people. How long must I be with you? How long must I put up with you? Bring him to me." And they brought the boy to him.

As soon as the spirit saw Jesus, it shook and convulsed the boy who fell on the ground and began rolling about, foaming at the mouth. Then Jesus asked the father, "How long has this been happening to him?" He replied, "From childhood. And it has often thrown him into the fire and into the water to destroy him. If you can do anything, have pity on us and help us."

Jesus said to him, "Why do you say 'If you can'? All things are possible for one who believes." Immediately the father of the boy cried out, "I do believe, but help the little faith I have."

Jesus saw that the crowd was increasing rapidly, so he ordered the evil spirit, "Dumb and deaf spirit, I command you: Leave the boy and never enter him again." The evil spirit shook and convulsed the boy and with a terrible shriek came out. The boy lay like a corpse and people said, "He is dead." But Jesus took him by the hand and lifted him and the boy stood up.

After Jesus had gone indoors, his disciples asked him privately, "Why couldn't we drive out the spirit?" And he answered, "Only prayer can drive out this kind, nothing else."

Commentary

Once we allow the word "if" a place in religion, all is lost. It is like allowing a hole in the bottom of a basket; no matter how small the hole, everything leaks out. "Why do you say, 'If you can'?" said Jesus. What happens when there is no "if"? "All things are possible for one who believes." Remember that "believe" isn't a matter of calculating the odds and finding them to be satisfactory. The word "trust" would translate it better. The great tragedy of post-Reformation or the Reformation, people now see, was that this was missed. What Martin Luther meant by faith included what Catholics meant by hope. Or in algebra (D: Faith (Luther) = faith + hope (Catholic)).

"I do believe, help my unbelief" said the man in today's reading. Is that a contradiction? Perhaps yes if you were to take belief as isolated from trust. There's a yes or no quality about pure belief but there are many degrees of trust; in fact trust is all about degrees. By trusting you learn how to trust, and by trusting again you learn to trust more. Belief (or faith as we prefer to call it) doesn't just lie unchanged in the mind; it grows out of itself. That's how every living thing grows.

Cops in Ping campaign hit

By Chemsed D. Goyen

MANILA (PDI) — The Philippine National Police (PNP) is launching a campaign to curb the growing problem of illegal gambling, known as "ping," in the country.

The PNP is targeting the "ping" campaign, which is a form of illegal gambling, in the country. The campaign is aimed at reducing the number of "ping" games and the number of people who play them.

RP raps UN failure in Middle East

By Jerome Jasing

MANILA, Philippines — The Philippine government has expressed its disappointment and frustration over the United Nations' failure to bring about a lasting peace in the Middle East. In a statement released last week, the Department of Foreign Affairs (DFA) said that the UN's efforts have been "inadequate and ineffective" in resolving the conflict between Israel and the Palestinians. The DFA noted that the UN's approach has been "biased and one-sided," favoring the Palestinian side. It also criticized the UN's failure to take decisive action against Israel's military operations in Gaza and the West Bank. The statement called for a more balanced and effective approach to the conflict, one that would ensure the rights of both sides and lead to a just and lasting peace. The DFA also expressed its support for the two-state solution, which it sees as the only viable path to peace in the region. It called on the UN to take more concrete steps to implement this solution and to ensure the safety and security of all people in the Middle East.

The DFA statement also highlighted the need for a more comprehensive approach to the conflict, one that would address the root causes of the violence and ensure the long-term stability of the region. It called for a more active role for the international community in resolving the conflict, and for the UN to take more decisive action to bring about a lasting peace. The DFA also expressed its support for the efforts of the Israeli and Palestinian leadership to achieve a peaceful resolution to the conflict, and called on them to continue their dialogue and negotiations. The DFA statement was a clear expression of the Philippines' position on the Middle East conflict, and its support for a just and lasting peace in the region.

1. The first step is to make sure you have the right hardware. This includes a computer, a monitor, and a keyboard. You also need a telephone line and a modem.

2. Next, you need to install the software. This is usually done by inserting a floppy disk into the computer's floppy disk drive and following the instructions on the screen.

3. Once the software is installed, you need to configure it. This involves setting up your telephone number, your name, and other personal information.

4. Finally, you need to test the system. This is done by making a test call to a number that you know is working.

Bangko Sentral urges firms to hedge foreign exchange risks

By Doreen C. Ballester

12 FEBRUARY 2011 | 11:00 AM

MANILA — The Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) has urged firms to hedge foreign exchange risks, particularly those with significant foreign currency exposure. The central bank said in a circular letter that it is concerned about the potential impact of a sharp decline in the peso on the country's foreign exchange reserves.

The BSP said that it has observed a significant increase in the use of foreign currency by firms, particularly in the form of bank deposits and loans. This has led to a corresponding increase in the demand for foreign currency, which has put upward pressure on the peso's value.

Figure 1 is a line graph titled "Percentage of respondents who believe that the U.S. should take action to reduce global warming, broken down by age group." The x-axis represents age groups: 18-29, 30-49, 50-69, and 70+. The y-axis represents the percentage of respondents, ranging from 0 to 100. The graph shows four data series, each represented by a different colored line with markers. The 18-29 group (blue line) starts at approximately 65% and rises to about 75% for the 70+ group. The 30-49 group (orange line) starts at approximately 70% and rises to about 80% for the 70+ group. The 50-69 group (green line) starts at approximately 75% and rises to about 85% for the 70+ group. The 70+ group (red line) starts at approximately 80% and rises to about 85% for the 70+ group. The legend indicates that the lines represent different age groups: 18-29 (blue), 30-49 (orange), 50-69 (green), and 70+ (red).

The Journal of the American Medical Association says often the results of the pilot study sometimes bring an entirely different outcome. "Symptoms may be relieved, but the cure will not be the specific therapy being studied," says Dr. James M. Hays, Jr., of the Mayo Clinic. "The pilot study provides the most important clue to the true effect, generally revealing it to be either unimpressive or even harmful." "It's just common sense," says Dr. William H. Miller, Jr., of the University of Illinois at Chicago. "If you're going to try a new treatment, you should know what you're doing."

The club took to the air last year, and now it has the go-ahead for a new and exciting challenge: to build a new stadium. The club has a long way to go, but it is not alone. It is part of a growing trend of clubs looking to build new stadiums to replace their old ones. The new stadium will be a state-of-the-art facility, and it will be a great addition to the club's facilities. It will also be a great addition to the city's skyline. The club is looking forward to the day when it can move into its new home.

When a Staphylococcus aureus infection gets too serious, patients are treated with IV and oral antibiotics. But the use of antibiotics leads to drug resistance, says Barry. "It's a vicious cycle," he says.

But the authors do point out that we have given far less weight with research on challenged children than with more "well-adjusted" or "well-functioning" children. The authors argue that we need to do more research on children who are struggling to learn.

The other species of Leptocryptus found in the Philippines, L. leucostictus (Mason, 1961: 125) has a different coloration pattern. Leptocryptus is a genus of which the majority of species have been recorded in the Philippines (Mason, 1961: 125-126).
